TEXAS PROGRESS.

Pearsall News: We hear that experts have pronounced the water of the Brand-rock well, on Elder Townsend's land, to be so eminently medicinal and curative, as even to surpass the far-famed mineral water of the Wootan wells. Another meeting of the waterworks com-pany was held at Dublin city hall last Saturday and a committee of five appointed to solicit more subscriptions and one of three to confer with well diggers in regard to the digging, cost, etc.

At Roswell water was struck at a denth of 150 feet in the artesian well of Capt. Lea. This strike gives Roswell three "spouters," each succeeding one finding water nearer the surface. The Jaffa-Prager well is 207, the Cosgrovo well is 187 feet, while that of Capt. Lea is only 150 feet. The water supply of the last appears much stronger than the others. It spouts from the pipe ten feet from the ground.

Seymour Sun: Seymour has the capital home to start another bank of $100,000 capital. Several parties have been in correspondence with some of our citizens to establish another bank here, provided our citizens would take stock. The Clarendon Traveler says the big pastures are being sub-divided into 160 and t40-acre tracts and bought by industrious farmers from the East, and many cattle owners are selling off their stock and becoming tillers of the soil, or combining farming and stock raising.

A $50,000 hotel will be put up at Velasco. Senator Farwell is the principal owner. The Masons of Jefferson will soon erect one of the handsomest temples in the state, at a cost of $50,000. COLORADO CITY, May 3 .- The county ha recently purchased an improved road making machine and the roads of the county will be still further improved during the summer. The machine requires eight horses to draw it, but it moves the dirt in a hurry. Several of the streets in town have been "treated" and greatly improved.

CHANNING, May 2.—Dumas, the new and enterprising town in Moore county, is pushing its way to the front, to the credit of its people. The enterprising citizens have arranged with their neighbors of Channing for a telephone wire to be constructed between Dumas and Channing, and the to be got on with at once. Thus Dumas will have means of communication with the whole world. The waterworks in Chan-ning are in course of construction and the works are proceeding rapidly.

ABILENE, May 2.-Many new buildings are now in process of erection and our city is again being seized by the prospectors, who are beginning to invest quite liberally. TAYLOR, May 1 .- Yesterday and to-day have inaugurated big enterprises. The Fort Worth packery (branch department) is in operation. The street car line opened in full blast with good service. John Threadgill sold three-fourth interest in the "Washington Heights" for $37,000 cash to C. H. Welch, F. L. Welch and Albert Symes.

AMARILLO, May 1 .- Never before in the AMARILLO, May I.—Never before in the history of Amarillo haveso many substantial buildings been in course of construction. This town will have a population of at least two thousand people within the next twelve months at the rate it is now growing. And yet we have no boom—only good healthy growth to keep pace with our increasing trade.

ITALY, April 29.—This morning work began on a brick building. Part of it will be used by Messrs. Clark & Duniap for a bank, which institution has been secured through he medium of THE GAZETTE'S Texas in Type column.

TEXAS MINES AND MINERALS.

Doc Ramsdale, who is cropping on A. J. Stephen's farm, near Cottondale, informs the Aurora Chronicle that he has discov-cred an outcropping of coal on that place which he intends to develope. The vein at the surface is only four inches thick, but increases as it gets further into the bank. Mr. Ramsdale says the coal burns fiercely in the stove, and has promised to bring in some to try in the forge.

The total quantity of coal of all grades mined in Texas during the year 1890 was 128,216 tons, valued at $340,617 at the mines. Laredo Times: Laredo can justly claim that her Santo Thomas coal mines have a larger annual output of coal than the com-bined output of all the other coal mines in

Some two excavations have been made and considerable dirt has been thrown out, but it is not known whether the treasure was found or not. The work is sup-posed to have been done at night, and is surrounded with mystery.
